Career Day – September 10, 2020

Are you looking for new recruits? Make our CareerDay work for you

The environmental technology industry is not immune to the increasing challenges of recruiting the right specialists. The IFAT CareerDay is the event where graduates, students, young professionals, and industry experts can find out about the range of career options available in the sector.

Ideal recruitment opportunities for you as a CareerDay exhibitor!

experience.science.future – Career Day – September 10, 2020

Your benefits at a glance

IFAT 2018's experience.science.future. platform played host to the Career Day's successful launch. Hot on the heels of the successful inaugural event, exhibitors at this year's IFAT can once again showcase their company to potential employees.

The impressive range of CareerDay benefits make it the ideal platform for targeted recruitment:

- ✓ Target audience specific—make direct contact with students, graduates, and young professionals at the start of their careers
- ✓ An attractive, comprehensive package—including a Coffee and Water Bar, promotion by the IFAT marketing team, and an exclusive “Jobwall” for your vacancies
- ✓ A contemporary setting—attractive open-plan spaces with areas for meetings and networking
- ✓ A thematic conference program—interesting discussion groups and panels raise the profile of the CareerDay and the exhibitors

experience.science.future. – “Meet the Experts” The IFAT careers speed-dating event

As an exhibitor, you can participate in our “Meet the Experts” event on Thursday, September 10, giving you the opportunity to attract new recruits to your projects through face-to-face meetings.

Students, graduates, and young professionals can register for "Meet the Experts", giving them access to first-hand information relating to companies, career paths, and vacancies.

Attract young people to your company and the environmental technologies sector!

We will help you highlight your point of difference, boosting your appeal to the most promising young talent.
